Opening Hours

Monday - Thursday

10:00am - 5:00pm

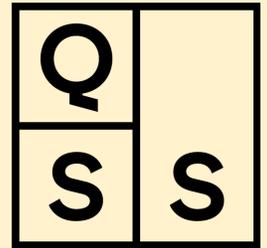

or by appointment

Entering the Building

Both of our gallery spaces are wheelchair accessible; however, the glass front doors are too narrow for wheelchair access if not fully opened. Please call or message the number on the front door, and a staff member will come down and help you.

During opening events, you will be greeted by staff in the reception area (last admission is 20.30). At other times, please press the QSS buzzer on arrival for access. Go through the first set of glass doors, and you will see the buzzer on your left-hand side. From the reception area, proceed to the 2nd floor using the stairs to your right or the lift at the rear.

Access and Facilities

Both of our gallery spaces are wheelchair accessible, but the glass front doors are too narrow for wheelchair access if not fully opened. Upon your arrival, please ring or text the number on the front door, and staff will come down and assist you.

There is an accessible bathroom on the second floor, located directly next to the lift. All exhibitions include a printed description of the exhibition typed in size 14 font, which is available at the entry point to each gallery space.

Transport and Parking

There are good transport links (bus/glider/cycling path) in the vicinity and plenty of shops and cafes. QSS does not have any designated parking; however, there is ample free on-street parking on Bloomfield Avenue and multiple paid as well as free car parks around Connswater, a short walk from our entrance.

There are a few Blue Badge parking spaces nearby on neighbouring streets. Find them on the Blue Badge Parking Space Map. Plan your journey with Translink through the Journey Planner website.

Further Support

If you have any further queries regarding access, please don't hesitate to contact Cathy at gallery@queenstreetstudios.net.
